

Editorial I

The sixth and final volume of 2015 is composed of 35 scientific contributions in the fields of audiology, language, public health, orofacial motricity and voice, including a Letter to the Editor.

During 2015 many changes have occurred in the CEFAC Journal and we could count on the involvement, participation and dedication of the authors and reviewers that greatly contributed to raise and maintain the quality of published scientific papers.

With the arrival of a new year, new changes will take place, as the arrival of a new scientific team. I inform you that this change is important and necessary to continue the publication and scientific dissemination of Speech Language Pathologist conducted by this Journal.

After three years as Scientific Editor of this Journal, I thank the privilege of doing this work and learning with it. I conclude this editorial thanking the authors and reviewers for their important contributions during my period as Scientific Editor, especially Anamy Vizeu, Marcia Silva, Irene Queiroz Marchesan and Jaime Luiz Zorzi companionship, support and learning opportunities.

May the end of the year be full of hope and joy and 2016 be a year of achievements for all authors, reviewers, readers and new scientific team of the CEFAC Journal.
